8. NEW BUSINESS

8.I. Gale Ave Park

The commission met at Gale Ave Park to listen in and discuss the redesign of the park with the community and Parks and Rec department. The major concern at this park is erosion issues on the shore and water runoff from the roads. Residents voiced their concern about improvements and offered ideas for what they would like to see. Erosion control ideas included a retaining wall along the shore and a rain garden along the fence at the top of the park. D. Anson explained the role of the rain gardens to the community members and discussed that each rain garden is site specific, so the plantings can be as tall or short at the community would like to see.
